

ABOUT US

Our Mission

To equip America's warfighters to counter existing and emerging threats, and to protect military personnel, civilians and critical infrastructure.

Our History

Envistacom was founded by Alyssa and Alan Carson in the basement of their home in 2011. Their mission was to "do it right from the start," laying the company foundation with trust and by putting employees first. Their employee-first operating system still guides the company today and is the key to their success.

Envistacom has grown at a rapid pace, quickly expanding beyond its roots with a growing set of communications, cyber and intelligence experts and solutions.

As the company continues to expand its global network of experts and solutions, it also continues its commitment to "giving back." Envistacom has a robust community outreach program that targets two key areas: at-risk youth and active U.S. military, veterans and their families.

"We listen to our customers to understand their needs and then propose the right mix of technology and talent to advance global security. They trust us to deliver innovative solutions on time, on budget and on target."

— Alyssa Carson
